

Mrs. Taylor Gives Dinner For Her Son

His Engagement to Miss Elsie C. Lathrop, of Cranley Gardens, London, Is Occasion for the Event

Mrs. Gorman Entertains

Gives Luncheon and Bridge at Her Home; Informal Affairs Popular in Society

Mr. and Mrs. William R. K. Taylor gave a dinner at their home, 32 West 71st street, last night, for a party of twenty. The guests included Miss Elsie C. Lathrop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin G. Lathrop, of Cranley Gardens, London. Mrs. Taylor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lathrop, of Cranley Gardens, London. Mrs. Taylor's guests last night included Miss Cecile Caselle, Miss Clara Farish, Miss Clara Reynolds, Miss Eleanor Pendleton, Miss Margaret Taylor, Miss Richard L. Taylor, Miss Stewart, Miss Merrill, Miss Berwick Lanier, Miss Taylor, Miss Decourcy Taylor, Miss Thayer Shedd, Miss Mrs. James Blackstone Taylor, Miss Mrs. Frederick Schuchter, Miss Mrs. Frederick Schuchter, Miss Mrs. Benjamin B. Lathrop and Mrs. Frederick P. Moore.

Mrs. Henry Anderson Gorman gave luncheon and bridge yesterday at her home, at 636 Fifth Avenue.

Miss Adelaide Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander Porter, of Louisville, N. C., and a sister of Mrs. Porter Huxley, of Greenwich, Conn., will be married to-day at the Round Community Church in Greenwich by the Rev. Hugh Marshall, of 43 Fifth Avenue.

Mr. Marshall is a graduate of Princeton, N. J., and is a member of the bank of George H. B. & Co., of New York City. After the wedding there will be a reception at Fairfairs, the Huxley residence at Round Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan Schley Jr., of New York, and Mrs. Buchanan Schley, of Havana and Panama, have moved from 43 Fifth Avenue to 171 West 14th Avenue, where they will be for the winter.

Among those who gave luncheons at her yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Thorne, Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice and Mr. Foxhall K. Keane.

Mr. Lorillard Spencer gave a luncheon at Pierre's yesterday for his Katherine Force, who recently returned from abroad.

Mrs. Henry R. McLane and Miss Alice McLane have returned to the city from Millbrook, N. Y., and are at the Lorraine.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Irving T. Bush have returned from White Sulphur Springs, and are occupying their apartment at the Carlton House.

Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice have closed their Newport home, and will reside at the Ritz-Carlton for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Ivelin, Mrs. E. O. Sturgis and Mr. Howard Sturgis are among the recent arrivals at the Ritz.

Miss Josephine C. Kelly gave a luncheon yesterday at Delmonico's.

Marquis and Marchesa Pinar del Rio, of Havana, gave a dinner at Sherry's last night.

Mrs. Talbot Ewart gave a luncheon at Sherry's for Miss Zelma T. Clark and Miss Pauline Robinson. Others who gave luncheons at Sherry's yesterday included Mrs. Augustus F. Gault, Mrs. Walter Phelps Bliss and Miss Sturges. Mrs. Dudley Wake gave a luncheon for Mrs. Dudley Wake.

Mrs. Colgate Hoyt will give a luncheon at Sherry's for Mrs. Preston F. Satterthwaite.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont has arrived from New Washington and is at the Belmont.

Miss Margaret Hennessey will give a luncheon for Miss Elizabeth Cathwaite, daughter of Mrs. Thomas A. Cathwaite, at her home, 903 Park Avenue.

Miss Gretchen Schoen To Wed November 23

The wedding of Miss Gretchen Schoen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schoen, 10 East Seventy-fifth Street, and Mr. Gray MacW. Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Bryan, 75 West Fifty-fourth Street, will take place Thursday, November 23. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires in St. Mark's Church at 4:30 o'clock. A reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Schoen will have Mrs. Paul H. Schomer, of this city, as matron of honor, and her attendants will be Misses Mary and Margaret Bryan, daughters of the bridegroom; Miss Margaret Despard and Miss Dorothy Blake, of this city, and Mrs. Thomas M. Bryan, Jr., of Philadelphia. Mr. Bryan will have as best man, Mr. Harry C. Cramer, of this city, and as ushers, Messrs. John A. Larkin, Stuyvesant, and Kenneth M. Segal, all of New York; Mr. F. N. Nelson, of New York; Mr. G. E. Winans, of Baltimore; and Mr. A. T. Wall Jr., of Providence, R. I.

Mr. Bryan was graduated from Princeton in 1913 and served abroad as a captain of field artillery with the 7th Division.

New Yorkers Play Golf And Ride at Hot Springs

Special Dispatch to The Tribune. HOT SPRINGS, Va., Nov. 14.—A throng of about twenty-five New Yorkers, including Mr. and Mrs. W. F. White, of Easthampton, and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Larkin, of New York, played a final round of golf this morning.

New Yorkers riding to-day were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Talbot, the district justice, and Miss Adelaide Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander Porter, of Louisville, N. C., and a sister of Mrs. Porter Huxley, of Greenwich, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. James Turner and Mrs. Robert Turner, of Rochdale, England, will be in New York to-day.

Mr. John A. Hastings, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Richardson Bronck, of Westbury, Conn., left to-day for their homes.

Miss Lucille Baldwin

Miss Baldwin, who returned to the city last Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy W. Baldwin, of Tuxedo, was an interested spectator at the Horse Show at Squadron A Armory yesterday.

Miss Lucille Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy W. Baldwin, of Tuxedo, was an interested spectator at the Horse Show at Squadron A Armory yesterday.

Gothic Atmosphere Predominates at New American Galleries

Association's First Art Exhibit of Season Pleasing; Furniture and Tapestries in Souhami Collection

By Royal Cortissoz

The new American Art Galleries are fortunate in their first exhibition this season. It is of fifteenth century and later antiques, furniture, tapestries and so on. These things fill the spacious rooms in a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy. It has the intimacy of a mansion rather than the air of a museum, and it is a public show room.

The new system of lighting proves altogether successful. The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

The objects displayed belong to the collection of Souhami, of Paris, who obtained them from several different French collections. They range from the Gothic period to the eighteenth century and are especially important in the first category of Gothic art, which is a fairly informal arrangement and the resultant effect is peculiarly happy.

Veteran Mounts Are Winners At Horse Show

Cherokee Princess, an Old-Time Favorite, Ridden by Miss Janet MacKay, Is Victor in Ladies' Class

Lady Mine Takes Ribbon

Field Marshal, Sire of Champion, Adds New Laurels; Cavalrymen Do Stunts

By Harriette Underhill

For thirty-six years the officers and directors of the National Horse Show have been much envied persons who were popularly supposed to sit up in the boxes or on the arena, and to be looking on at the prize giving.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

But the show is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then. This is the thirty-sixth year of the show, and it is a vast difference between now and then.

has proved himself "the backbone of the nation," so to speak, because he is a real producer, in Field Marshal, shown in a class for harness horses not exceeding 15.1 hands. Marshall is none other than the size of little Charm, the champion of the International Horse Show, and the champion of all England. Field Marshal was bred by the late Mrs. J. H. Marshall, who was a devotee of the British Isles and devoted himself to the breeding of horses. He was a being just a father when James Putnam brought him over here, and before the war he had a chance to do anything sensational he sold the horse to O. W. Lehman for $12,000. Another horse breeder who was snatched from her own hearthstone and sent into the show ring to win laurels for her owner is little Lady Mine, a mare who, until recently, resided on the farm of James C. Brody at Gladstone, N. J. Mrs. J. D. Hertz is showing her and she won the class for saddle ponies yesterday, defeating Midnight Frolic and Babette. Mrs. Hertz owns another mare who is a little taller than Lady, but not any younger. Killington Nimble is her name, and she was popular at the international shows in London and was finally sold for a brood mare to John J. Mitchell. But she was willing to give up the life of the show and forego forever the footlights and the plaudits of her public.

Rejected Domesticity

She was not. She snubbed and refused to be successful in the role of just a housewife. She never had a child, and finally those who had tried to persuade her to change her vocation repented, and here she is back in the show ring again. On Friday she will meet, among others, a string of Judge Moore's best.

One of the features of the day was the exhibition of the Cavalry School from Fort Myer, Va. Even those who are not especially interested in the horses and their performance can enjoy this wild riding and tumbling and shooting jumping.

It was a feature of the show, we realized that being "one of the show people" is no longer the show which it was supposed to be. The show this year will be a success; they did fill the arena, and the classes were well filled, but it could not have been an easy matter to accomplish this. There are still plenty of work horses, because there is so little work for them to do, and show horses are a different proposition, and those who love "King horse" and his big annual exhibition cannot feel quite easy in their minds as they look at the entry list. There are so few new and worthwhile entrants.

Ladies' Class Popular

The most popular class of the day was the exhibition of ladies' saddle horses over 14.2 and under 15.2 hands. Ladies were to ride, and numbers were to count 50 per cent.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1846, the son of a mechanic, Mr. Fox entered the newspaper profession as a messenger in the advertising department of a Belfast newspaper. When twenty years old he returned to the United States, shortly after his marriage and joined the staff of "The Wall Street Journal."

In 1876 he took over "The Police Gazette," at that time devoted to news of crime and crime Sunday night, and was seventy-six years old, and had been in failing health for a year.